

Reason for deployment at Python Anywhere instead of Heroku

I have deployed my web app on pythonanywhere instead of Heroku. At first, I was trying to deploy it on Heroku using the instructions specified in the Task 2.8 Tutorial. When I tried to log in, it required some key verification that was possible on my old laptop but not on my new one (I recently switched to this one) and thus logging in wasn't working for me. Since my mentor access is about to end I didn't want to ruin my course completion just because of a login issue. So I quickly decided to use some other deployment website so that I can make my submissions on time.
